

JOB VACANCY: STUDIO PRODUCER/MANAGER

This is a new opportunity for an experienced Studio Producer to join our team in Bristol. Your role will be to oversee and complete all video production within Sounds Commercial, from standalone projects to supporting the events team with all video aspects of an event. The highest quality of service to all clients and to facilitate the correct preparation, production and delivery of all aspects of the Video Production department.

You should have great creative experience with a skill base across all aspects of Video Production, you should ideally be an ambitious person who is able to use your own initiative to solve problems and learn about new technology.

Our Video Needs:

Our Studio team regularly:

- Operate live cameras at events
- Capture B-roll of events
- Create post event highlight reels
- Produce Award show motion graphics
- Produce standalone explainer videos for online use
- Produce social media videos
- Direct multi-camera shoots
- Direct live event multi-camera vision mix

Your Duties

As Studio Producer/Manager, your duties will include:

- Liaising with clients and event managers to determine video needs
- Co-ordinating standalone productions
- Co-ordinating video aspects of live events
- Operating video equipment solo and leading a team
- Editing video content
- Organising freelancers as and when required
- Supervising junior crew, technicians and freelancers on productions

JOB VACANCY: STUDIO PRODUCER/MANAGER

- Following brand guidelines and managing assets
- Project management
- Owning the Studio budget
- As well as normal day to day duties associated with this industry and position

What type of person do we need?

You will need to be a responsible, positive person, who has a can-do attitude and can remain calm under pressure.

The essential requirements are:

- You must have a minimum of 2.5 years video production experience with a proven record of setting up running multiple productions concurrently
- Have a proven in-depth understanding of production equipment including lighting, sound and video
- You should have experience of delivering high quality video content to all types of clients, excellent client facing skills and good communication skills
- A good positive and happy attitude as well as a team player. Ability to work long hours and weekends on events when required due to the nature of the events industry
- Ability to work under pressure and to resolve issues diplomatically and calmly
- Your personality and commitment to your career is key!
- You must have a full UK driving licence
- It is preferred that you live within reasonable traveling time of our Bristol premises (BS5)
- You will need to supply proof of eligibility to work in the UK

Please forward your CV with a covering letter and salary expectations to:

Kieran Murphy: k.murphy@soundscommercial.co.uk